First iPhone 5 case announced

iPhone 5 case available to order before Apple's launch

Sculpteo has announced its iPhone 5 case before Apple has even announced the latest generation smartphone.

Keen Apple customers will be able to order their iPhone 5 case from this afternoon, European time before the launch event starts.

Sculpteo has described it as the 'first ever customizable iPhone 5 case'.

Join us at 6pm for the iPhone 5 launch: live "As part of the launch of 3DPCase by Sculpteo, we will be releasing the first customizable 3D printed iPhone 5 Case on 12 September before the official Apple announcement" said the firm.

The 3DPCase app will allow customers to create a customised app in preparation for the iPhone 5's imminent launch.

Before you get too excited, the images sent by Sculpteo unfortunately don't indicate what the iPhone 5's design will look like since they are mock ups.

Sculpteo said: "Due to the fact that it will be possible to order the cases before the layout of the iPhone 5 is publicly released, each design will be instantly adapted according to the precise iPhone 5 layout." "If there is any radical changes in the shape customers will be informed immediately before their iPhone case is printed and delivered.

Each customer is guaranteed to receive an iPhone 5 case which will fit their phone perfectly."
